The Misguided People of Florence.

According to the Blade, published at Florence, the people of that community, including the Blade itself, are pursuing a very foolish course. The idea appears to prevail in that section that the interests of Florence and of the middle Gila valley will be served by attacking the people of the Salt River valley, and especially such citizens of this community as have taken the lead in the campaign for a government reservoir on the Salt river. It is assumed at Florence, it seems, that the prospects for the San Carlos reservoir will be improved by fighting the Salt river project.
This is a very unwise attitude for Florence to take. But the folly is not confined to a childish hostility to this section. The men who have elected themselves leaders of sentiment at Florence are so exceedingly unwise as to attack the secretary of the interior and the high officials of the geological survey. Why? Merely because the secretary of the interior has selected the reservoir on the Salt river for early construction, and as yet has not designated San Carlos.

The opinion prevails at Florence, it seems, that by some unfair method not explained the government has been induced to undertake the reservoir on the Salt ahead of the reservoir on the Gila.
If this were true, matters would not be mended by pursuing the policy upon which the misguided men of Florence have set out. But, as a matter of fact, there is no basis for the belief. From first to last every step taken in support of the project for storage for this valley has been taken honestly, openly and in the light of day; and there have been neither secrets nor underhanded methods connected with it.

Further, not a hand has been raised or a word spoken against the San Carlos scheme. On the contrary, Phoenix and the valley generally have had and hold a very friendly feeling for the aspirations of the people of Florence.
The leaders in the movement here have had the intelligence to understand that there is no conflict of interest between the storage schemes for the two rivers.
Moreover, it would have been impossible to mislead the government had there been a wish to do so. Government engineers made their investigations at San Carlos and full reports were made there before they took up the investigations at the Tonto basin.
The integrity of these engineers is above question, and their reports on the two enterprises have been open to the world for months. There are certain engineering reasons why the government is inclined to begin the reservoir on the Salt among the first. But it by no means follows that the secretary cannot be induced to undertake the San Carlos reservoir also in the near future—provided the people to be benefited thereby do not make it impossible.

What Florence needs more than anything just now is an industrious apostle of common sense.

A Deserved Compliment to Gen. Wood.

Brigadier-General Leonard Wood will sail today or tomorrow for the Philippines, to take up his new assignment as commander of the military department of Mindanao, and the secretary of war has paid him a deserved and timely compliment by issuing the following order:

"By direction of the president, Brigadier-General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., having filed the report which completes his service as military governor of Cuba and as commander of the military forces stationed in that island, from December, 1899, to the close of the American occupation, is relieved from further duty in connection with the affairs of the former military government of Cuba.

"The administration of General Wood as military commander of the division and the department of Cuba, as military governor, was highly creditable.
The civil government was managed with an eye single to the benefit of the Cuban people, under the supervision and control of the military governor.
The Cuban people themselves had an opportunity to carry on their government to constantly-increasing degrees, so that when Cuba assumed her independence, she started with the best possible chance of success."

"Out of an utterly prostrate colony, a free republic was built up. The new nation started under more favorable conditions than has ever before been the case in a single instance among her fellow Spanish-American republics.
This good record stands alone in history, and the benefit conferred upon the people of Cuba was no greater than the honor conferred upon the people of the United States.

"The war department, by direction of the President, thanks General Wood and the officials, civil and military, serving under him, upon the completion of a work so difficult, so important and so well done."

Secretary Root does not place too high an estimate upon the services of Leonard Wood. Not only has that young man earned the everlasting gratitude of the people of Cuba, but he has placed his own country under obligations as heavy, and he has fully earned every promotion that he has received. He practically fills the American ideal of energy and sanity. There is no man known to the public who is so completely fitted for the task of actually pacifying the natives of Mindango, and if they are not willing to accept American sovereignty without reservation after a year's experience under the rule of General Wood, the task of pacification may be given up as hopeless. Provided, of course, that Governor Taft gives General Wood a free hand. So far, unfortunately, Governor Taft, notwithstanding his many admirable qualities, has not succeeded always in making a success of his relations with the military.

If, however, differences do arise between Taft and Wood, it is easy to imagine upon which side President Roosevelt's favor will fall. But it is not probable that there will be prolonged opportunity for possible differences. It is more likely that Wood's assignment to the command of Mindanao is the forerunner of his appointment as governor-general of the Philippines.
Governor Taft has had a hard task and upon the whole has performed it most satisfactorily, and in the nature of things he will be entitled to relief at no distant day.

When Leonard Wood is made governor-general of the Philippines his great opportunity will come. The question of winning over the Filipinos to a cordial acceptance of American rule will then be put to the final test. If Wood can not succeed it is not within the possibilities for anybody to succeed. And if, perchance, it is in the fates for the United States to be compelled to undertake the suppression of another insurrection in the Philippines, we shall be lucky in having General Wood on the ground. Under his leadership another war, should one occur, would not leave the Filipinos with any doubt as to the foolishness of opposing the military arm of this government.

Voters at the School Election.

There is considerable uncertainty as to the qualifications necessary to enable one to vote at today's school election, and misunderstandings have been rather increased by statements which appeared in a local paper yesterday evening. The law on the subject is clear and liberal, and admits of no misconstruction. Section 2176 of the Revised Statutes reads:

"Every person, male or female, of the age of twenty-one years or over, who is a citizen of the United States, and who has been a resident of the district for thirty days immediately preceding the day of election, and who is the parent or guardian of a child of school age residing in the district, or who has paid a territorial or county school tax, exclusive of poll tax, during the preceding year, is eligible to the office of trustee, and shall be entitled to vote at any school district election, provided that every woman offering to vote at such election (who is otherwise qualified under this section) and whose husband or father is or was a citizen of the United States, shall be treated and considered as a citizen of the United States for the purpose of voting at such election."

Any woman, therefore (or any man, who has resided in the district thirty days and is the parent or guardian of a child of school age residing in the district, or any person who has paid a territorial or county school tax in this county in the past year, can vote today.

Every voter in Phoenix can vote for two school directors—one director for the grammar school and one director for the high school. Country residents of the high school district can vote for one director of the high school.

Hartford Courant: Professor Sumner of Yale has written a life of Andrew Jackson for the "American Statesmen" series of popular biography. It is discriminating, not adulatory. The general is not portrayed with wings and a halo. There is no absurd swinging of the incense pot. Professor Sumner is not that kind of a biographer, and he is not that kind of a democrat. He gives Jackson credit where credit is due, and also honestly points out his defects, faults and mistakes. "It does not appear," the professor says in the summing up, "that he ever repented of anything, ever thought he had been in the FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

This is a very important consideration in a woman's correspondence with Mrs. Pinkham. It is a great satisfaction to feel that one woman can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only, — a woman full of sympathy for her sick sisters, and with a knowledge of woman's ills greater than that possessed by any other person.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she publishes thousands of testimonials from women who have been benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer.

The reason Mrs. Pinkham is so amply qualified to give advice in cases of female ills is for the reason that over one hundred thousand cases come before her each year, — some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day, and day after day. Twenty years of constant success, — think of the knowledge thus gained. Surely, women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely free.

As an illustration of the good coming from such advice we herewith publish two letters and portraits of Miss Hattie DeGroat, the pending of which should give every sick woman confidence in Mrs. Pinkham's ability to help them. This is only one of thousands of the same kind of letters which Mrs. Pinkham has on file.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: — I have read with interest your advice to others so much that I thought I would write to you, for I have been suffering for a long time. I have such bearing-down pains, and such shooting pains go through me. I have headache, backache, and feel tired. Menstruation is very painful, sometimes have to stop work and lie down.
My stomach bleats terribly, and I am troubled with whites. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,
July 21st, 1900.
MISS HATTIE DEGROAT, Successuma, N. J."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: — I can hardly find words to thank you for your advice and wonderful Vegetable Compound. I was in a terrible state, every part of my body ached, was very nervous, had hysterical spells. I think I would have become insane had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your letter told me just what to do, and your medicine cured me, and I cannot express my thanks." March 25th, 1901.
MISS HATTIE DEGROAT, Successuma, N. J."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends. Do not be persuaded that any other medicine is just as good. Any dealer who suggests something else has no interest in your case. He is seeking a larger profit. Follow the record of this medicine, and remember that the thousands of women whose letters are constantly printed in this paper were not brought about by "something else," but by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

wrong about anything, or ever forgave an enemy as a specific individual." The New York newspaper that has a young presidential ambition on the premises chooses to take offense at this plain talk about one of the democracy's tutelaries. It describes the Sumner book as a "drizzle of detraction," and it generally calls the author a "swaggering pedagogue," an "annoying mugwump," a "pigeon-breasted prig," and a "whiffet." And William G. Sumner will be as much disturbed as the moon is by Fido's yapping.

General W. L. Cabell is just back from Honduras. He found the government party and the revolutionists about equally matched. His sympathies go out to the few peace-loving people who have remained neutral. He thinks President Roosevelt should intervene and restore order, and give Honduras a new start. "A reign of terror prevails," he says; "bands of government forces and revolutionists are roaming over the country. Several severe engagements have been fought, with results about a standoff, but nothing approaching a decisive battle has been won by either side. The interests of foreigners are in jeopardy every moment and American citizens are suffering severe losses."

According to the Providence Journal a solemn decree against the shirt waist has been put forth by the National Dressmakers' convention. That cool and cheerful article of attire is described as "ridiculous" and further stigmatized as "too common and too cheap." Perhaps the gist of the edict to H-L's in the last change. Dressmakers have a natural antipathy to anything that is cheap. Indeed, they confess freely that the shirt waist is ruining their business.
No doubt this is an adequate reason for opposing it. But when they add that it is in truth they are stretching the limits of irony. Most girls look very fascinating so clad.

A "family of factory girls" is reported from Cleveland, Ohio. The demand is said to have doubled and trebled, with no corresponding increase in the number of girls willing to work in the factories.

The Los Angeles Times has begun the publication of a "whiffet" newspaper at Avalon, Catalina Island. The condensed news in the Times is sent each night by wireless telegraph from San Pedro across the thirty miles of ocean to Avalon, and is printed in the little newspaper simultaneously with the publication of the parent sheet in Los Angeles. The first number of "The Whiffet" appeared Wednesday morning, and it is one of the most reliable events in the history of news dissemination.

For the next two months, towns and villages which otherwise cannot hope to have their names printed in the newspapers, will be having the country with yarns about the "discovery" of plots against the president or members of his party. Winona, Minn., sends out with the story of a conspiracy hatched in South Dakota to abduct Secretary Shaw, Secretary Root and Attorney General Knox.

MY BABY WAS SICK
My baby is 4 months old and is teething. He was sick and I tried a good many things, but nothing seemed to relieve him.
I had a doctor, who said it was inflammation of the bowels, and that I would never pull him through—perhaps, if he was under his care. When I saw he was getting worse I stopped giving him his medicine, as he could keep nothing on his stomach. He was troubled with colic very much, and used to scream when he had a touch of it. I did not know what to do to close my eyes, day or night. I gave him a few drops of LAXAKOLA and it relieved him. I gave it to him a few times and it worked like a charm, and he now rests pretty fair all night. He is a great deal better looking baby since I gave him LAXAKOLA, and I think if all mothers knew how good it was they would use nothing else.—MRS. MARY DANEY.
